YANKS OPEN 25-M. HITLER LINE SMASH

Seabees Aid Boy's Fight

Six-year-old Jimmie Carrick, mascot for 27 overseas Seabee battalions, holds plaque and reads some of the letters he receives daily from his Navy friends . . . as he awaits trip to hospital for examination. Suffering a spinal ailment, Jimmie has been confined to his bed for five years. Jimmie's Pittsburgh parents attribute his recent progress in his fight for recovery to the "morale-building" Seabees who have "adopted" him because "his kind of courage is the stuff of which good 'bees are made."

25-Mi. Assault On Hitler Line

Japs Shut Trap; Yanks Hem City

By SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING, May 19 (AP) — A Chinese spokesman conceded today the defenders of the ancient city of Loyang in Honan Province were surrounded and completely cut off, but he said the Chinese still retained 80 to 90 per cent of the city and were "determined to hold out."

It was announced the Japs who cut the east-west Lunghai railway west of Loyang had joined forces with the invaders from Shansi Province and had reached the railway town of Shansien. This town is 49 miles from Tungkwang, gateway to the northwest at the Yellow river elbow.

Meanwhile Jap troops thrusting westward south of the Lunghai rail line were declared to have advanced to a point 58 miles east-southeast of Tungkwang.

The Chinese offensive in Yunnan Province, aimed at a junction with Stilwell's forces in north Burma and reopening the Burma road, is advancing west of the Salween river, the spokesman said.

Supporting that Chinese drive, American airmen attacked Tengchung and Lungling, principal Jap bases in Yunnan.

Chinese troops were reported to have reached at two points the western slopes of the formidable Kaoli range, between the Salween and Shweli rivers.

In Honan Province, counter-attacking Chinese breached the north-south Peiping-Hankow railway at several points and continued assaults, attacking Chang-taiwan, 12 miles north of the Jap base of Sinyang and Mingkiang, 23 miles north of Sinyang.

SOUTHEAST ASIA HEADQUARTERS, Kandy, Ceylon, May 19 (AP) — Brig.-Gen. Frank Merrill's jungle-fighting American and Chinese infantry, with airborne reinforcements, have penetrated the outskirts of Myitkyina after capturing the town's airfield, it was announced today.

The airfield, two miles south of the town, was seized two days ago in a surprise attack.

While troops poured in to the field by air from other elements of Gen. Stilwell's forces, another Merrill column occupied the village of Nawraw Sakan and threw a block across the Mogaung-Myitkyina road.

An official announcement said other troops were thrusting toward Myitkyina from the north.

On the India side of the Indo-Burma warfare, an Indian army brigade in a sudden slashing attack by circuitous march through the jungle threw a road block across the Tiddim road south of Imphal.

This march through the roughest country around the enemy's eastern flank cut off the Japanese 33rd division attacking Imphal.

Many casualties were inflicted by the Gurkhas making up the brigade which repulsed Jap counter-attacks, and much equipment was captured.

Col. Philip G. Cochran's Air Commandos were credited with destruction of five Jap aircraft in the air and 76 ground in the mid-Burma Allied operations.

A summary listed 99 enemy planes destroyed, 11 probably destroyed and 18 damaged. Allied losses in Chindit operations were 23 aircraft.

and French troops carving deeper into German mountain defenses in the middle.

(The German high command, reporting the heaviest fighting in the center, at Pontecorvo and to the southwest, acknowledged a "local dent" in the Hitler Line at Sant'Olivia but said it was "sealed off.") This indicated a French-driven wedge toward the mountain only four miles from Pico, on the inland road from threatened Itri.)

Poles of the Eighth Army, pushing beyond fallen Cassino on the northern flank, fought within a mile and a half of Piedmonte, four miles west of Cassino near Highway 6—the road to Rome. On the neutral sector south of the Liri valley, Fifth Army forces reached a point 17 miles air line from their jumping-off place of the week-old Allied offensive by taking 4129-foot Monte Faggeto over looking the Itri-Pico road, the enemy's only communication link between the ends of the now-dented Hitler line.

French troops yesterday captured the village of Monticelli, four miles northwest of Esperia, and drove on toward Sant'Olivia, generally regarded as one of the strong points of the Hitler line. Monticelli has been described as situated in the heart of the area where Hitler Line defenses guard the Liri valley.

The Allied Command declared the Americans were in close contact with the battered enemy in the mountains forming the southern strongholds of the Hitler Line and asserted that the Eighth Army, "quick to exploit its successes" in the Cassino region, "pressed the enemy vigorously back against the line."

On the west coast, Lieut.-Gen. Mark W. Clark's Americans mopped up the few snipers left in captured Formia and a spokesman declared that other Fifth Army units were "poised before Itri" without specifying how near that junction the advanced elements had progressed. It was disclosed yesterday, however, that they were less than two miles from the town even on the preceding day. Through Itri runs the enemy's only avenue of retreat from the Gaeta Point sector to the southeast.

A glow lighted the skies even as far south as Naples before dawn today and it was believed the Germans were destroying ammunition and other dumps at Gaeta from where their long-range artillery has been operating in recent weeks.

Nazis Kill 47 RAF Fliers

LONDON, May 19 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden disclosed today 47 RAF officers had been shot by Germans after a mass escape from a war prison camp near Dresden on March 25.

Sixty-six officers participated in the break. Eden told the House of Commons. Fifteen were reported captured alive, and 14 are still at large.

Some were shot resisting arrest and some in the course of a new escape attempt after they were captured, Eden said. It was the first such episode of the war.

"The government is profoundly shocked by this news and I have urgently requested the protecting power (Switzerland, through which notification of the deaths came to the relatives and the air ministry) to demand from the German government a full and immediate report of the circumstances in which these men met their deaths, and an explanation of its failure to report the facts at once to the protecting power," Eden said.

The men were members of the "RAF Dominion Allied" air forces, the customary terminology embracing 13 RAF, RAAF, RNZAF and other national groups in the RAF like the Poles, the Dutch and the Norwegians.

As far as is known there were no Americans involved, although Eden did not say so specifically. The dead included several heroes of the Battle of Britain.

First word of the fliers' fate came yesterday when relatives in England, given brief formal notification by the Swiss government of the deaths, began inserting obituary notices in the London papers.

International law sanctions shooting in attempts to halt escapes, but provides that after recapture, if there is no resistance, the most severe penalty can only be imprisonment.

Today at least 11 families had been notified by the Swiss government of fliers' deaths. First reports last night had listed seven men, including Squadron Leader Ian Cross, 26, who won the Distinguished Flying Cross in the battle of Britain and who was rescued by the Germans from the North sea after bombing the battleship Scharnhorst. Another man shot was Flight Lieut. R. C. Stewart, who bailed out of a bomber over Essen and crashed through a rooftop, but was unhurt.

1500 U. S. Planes Big Red Smash Plaster Berlin

LONDON, May 19 (AP) — American Fortresses and Liberators and fighter escorts, described officially as a strong force and probably numbering up to 1500 planes, resumed the Allied aerial offensive after a five-day lapse today and struck at targets in the Berlin and Brunswick areas.

The attack, coming less than 24 hours after Gen. Arnold, chief of U. S. Army Air Forces, had declared the full weight of Allied air power, precipitated a running air battle right across Germany to the sky over the German capital, German broadcasts indicated.

The ensuing bombardment—the U. S. strategic air force's 10th attack on the Nazi hub and the third on the capital this month—was so heavy it disrupted German news broadcasts.

From the RAF and the USAAF Berlin has taken about 46,000 tons of bombs up to today.

Channel observers said the parade of aircraft setting out for the continent today was the biggest seen during the war.

While the American heavies were smashing at Berlin and Brunswick, small formations of Allied expeditionary air force and RAF Mosquitos, Typhoons and fighter-bombers attacked unspecified objectives in Northern France —Reports of heavy Nazi bombing of Russian communication lines in eastern Poland reflected mounting German anxiety today that the Red Army is massing strength for a new smash on the central front along the shortest line to Berlin.

The Berlin radio reported "concentrated attacks" on rail yards and trains at Sarny, Rowne and Zdobunow.

Wadke to Speed Philippine Drive

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, May 19 (AP)—Another lightning stab in Gen. MacArthur's accelerated Philippines-bound offensive today gave the Allies virtual possession of strategic Wadke island, a potential base for:

1—Throwing a fighter plane umbrella for bombers over all the rest of Japanese-held northwest New Guinea.

2—Battering Halmahera, enemy island guardian between MacArthur and the Philippines, to which he has avowed to return.

few feet from the chapel they had piled hundreds of mortar shells, machine-gun cartridges litter the floors.

Norman Newton, Cambridge, Mass., AMG fine arts officer attached to the Eighth Army, said today after examination of the ruins of the Monte Cassino abbey that "reconstruction of the entire abbey is possible, although much of it is only pulverized rubble and dust."

The interior form of the three lower cloisters still is visible, Maj. Newton said, but the cross colonnades are missing and the great stairway is pulverized.

"The statue of St. Benedict is headless, but otherwise intact," he said. "The Cloister of the Benefactors is ruined. In the basilica, the south wall and part of two large piers at a crossing are standing. Otherwise, the basilica seems to be gone."

Monastery War's Worst Ruin

By LYNN HEINZERLING
WITH EIGHTH ARMY ON MONASTERY HILL ABOVE CASSINO, Italy, May 19 (AP)—The great bastion of Cassino and this monastery hill halcyon by the works of St. Benedict, were free of Germans today for the first time in more than six months.

From this hill, where St. Benedict founded the Benedictine Order in 529 A. D., and laid the foundations for the monastery which, until three months ago, was a gleaming gem against the sky, I looked down today on what remains of Cassino.

Nowhere in the world is the devastating power of aerial bombardment more evident than on the crest of this ancient hill.

This great monastery now forms a gigantic heap of stone fragments, with only the northwestern wall and a few small rooms in that wing more or less intact—including the chapel of St. Benedict, which apparently has suffered only from being used as a billet for German troops.

In the center of the once-stately building a few scattered palm trees lift their heads, partly buried by the great avalanche of rubble.

Grounds of the monastery are pitted with craters and its trees are cut and slivered as though by giant knives. Only the great stone foundations of the monastery apparently remain intact.

In this incredible pile of ruins, which seem to merge with the peak of the hill, there are scrambled dishes, furniture, books, pamphlets, German equipment and fixtures.

There is no question about the Germans having used the monastery. Their equipment is strewn through the remaining rooms. A

Stab-in-the-Back Fortune Tellers

'Don't Squeal,' Plea of Seers

By PAULINE WARREN

The most cowardly stab-in-the-back administered to American fighting men is the rotten racket whereby fortune tellers capitalize on the agony of next-of-kin caused by war's uncertainty.

Well aware of the havoc they are causing, these pseudo-seers sometimes inquire of their pitiful victims:

"If I tell you everything, you won't squeal on me? No matter how bad it is?"

That's the query which often greeted me and my three colleagues (Alice Bissell, Helen Farlow and Helen Weller) when as "wives," "sweethearts" and "sisters" of service men we made the rounds of soothsayers in Boston and environs.

One bold gypsy-like woman who operates in an unsavory house in South Boston wheedled:

"Are you from the Red Cross? No? Then I'll tell you everything I see."

TALE OF HORROR

As she spun her tale of horror, her bold black eyes glowed with a strange light as if she took sadistic pleasure in the suffering she was inflicting.

My heart, sick within me, I listened, thinking of the trusting mothers and wives who, even at that moment, were waiting in her squalid house—waiting in the hope she might be able to give them a clue about the fate of their men embroiled in the fortunes of war.

With absolute heartlessness she informed me that the "fiance" I had invented for her special benefit is so maimed as to be unrecognizable.

"The Government told you he is missing in action," she purred (I had implied this) "but that isn't true. He's dead—he's dead and he's unrecognizable. That's why they have to list him as missing."

"How can you be sure?" I argued. "He might be in a prison camp."

"You'll never see him again," she re-asserted even more positively. "He's dead—that's all there is to it. Of course, if you want to kid yourself that he's still living..."

ANOTHER MAN

Madame's shrug of derision at this was worthy of a Machiavelli. Then, with infinite wile, she was off on another tack.

"Now, honey (her every other word was "honey") there is an

Another Frost Is Due Tonight

Victory gardeners were warned by the weather bureau today that sub-normal temperatures will continue for the next five days "at least."

The current cool spell sent the mercury plummeting from the low 60's to middle and low 30's within 20 hours in some sections of Greater Boston and caused widespread damage to crops in Middlesex County.

Tomatoes, early corn, beans and other spring crops were nipped by the frost, which in many areas covered the ground with a thickening resembling snow.

Readings in Concord reached an official low of 32 shortly before dawn. In Lexington the mercury dropped to 30 and at Arlington the temperature was 38. Boston's official minimum was 41 against a normal of 59 for this period.

The weather bureau forecast the next five days, Saturday through Wednesday, will average two to seven degrees below normal. Tomorrow will be "very cool" with rising temperatures Sunday and Monday. The climb will be short, however, with Tuesday and Wednesday "quite cool" again.

GI Bill Now Seen Law Before Memorial Day

By FRANK REILLY
Boston American Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 19—Passed with a unanimous roar of approval by the House, the American Legion's $6,500,000,000 "GI Bill of Rights" for veterans of this war, today went to a joint House-Senate conference committee preparatory to its presentation to the Senate early next week.

GIFT FOR PRESIDENT—Camp Fire Girls Phyllis Gardner, Janet Sheldon and Nancy Haskell present President Roosevelt with a book, "Salute to Youth," at the White House. The book contains a pictorial record of the war services performed by Camp Fire Girls in earning $3,000 worth of war bonds which they dedicated to the purchase of an ambulance plane. Associated Press Wirephoto

Its passage by the Senate, which approved a similar bill a month ago, is considered a certainty by supporters, who expect the measure to go to President Roosevelt and be signed into law before Memorial Day.

UNANIMOUS VOTE

In adopting the measure without a dissenting vote—the count was 378 to 0, with less than 50 members absent—here's what the House did:

It assured every GI Joe and Jane four full years, or more, of education if his or her schooling was interrupted by the war; and it decided that any boy or girl who was 24 or under when entering the armed service would be presumed to have had education interrupted.

It raised to $2500 the loans they can receive for the purchase of homes, farms or business property.

It assured the veterans the best possible break in the hunt for jobs when they come home.

It promised 26 weeks of unemployment compensation, protecting veterans not able to find jobs when discharged from service, with the strong possibility that the coverage will be extended to 52 weeks when House and Senate conferees meet to iron out differences in the bill.

It rejected any and all amendments which would have limited veterans' opportunities upon returning home.

BOARD OF REVIEW

The House bill assured disabled veterans adequate hospitalization and a chance to rehabilitate themselves. It completely and finally outlawed statements, that incapacitated soldiers could be induced to sign, waiving their rights to disability compensation.

It also provided that no veteran may be kicked out of the Army with a "blue discharge," neither honorable or dishonorable, without recourse. It set up a board of review for all such discharges, and assured every veteran of a hearing and a square deal.

The House rejected an amendment that would have prohibited unions from requiring that veterans hold a union card to work in a "closed shop."

Passage of the GI Bill of Rights, Rep. Philip (D.) of Massachusetts, declared, will be only an initial step in further legislation to aid veterans.

'Liberal Party' To Nominate F.D.

NEW YORK, May 19 (AP)—A new political party to be called the Liberal Party will be formed in New York state at a convention opening tonight and one of its officials predicted it would nominate Franklin D. Roosevelt for president and Henry A. Wallace for vice-president.

The two-day convention, to which 1000 delegates from labor and liberal groups have been accredited, was called by the right-wing forces who quit the American Labor party after the leftwing leadership won control in the March 28 primary.

Dean Alfange, chairman of the committee organizing the party, predicted the Roosevelt-Wallace ticket.

U. S. Senator Robert T. Wagner, also scheduled for nomination, will speak tonight.

Bishop Cushing Will Address 'L' Workers

Most Rev. Richard J. Cushing, administrator of Boston archdiocese, will address more than 2500 employees of the Boston El at the annual communion breakfast in Mechanics Building Sunday.

The breakfast will follow attendance at a memorial mass for deceased employees in Cathedral of Holy Cross at 9. Special dedication will be made for the 1000 workers in the armed forces.

The employees will parade after mass from the Cathedral along Washington st., Dedham st., Dartmouth st., and Huntington ave.

'Pilot' Raps Stalin For Priest's Trip

Premier Stalin knows "the proper procedure" if he should ever "sincerely and honestly wish to reach an understanding with the Catholic Church," "The Pilot," official organ of the Boston Archdiocese, states editorially in tomorrow's edition. The Russian dictator realized the Rev. Stanislaus Orlowski of Springfield, "represented nobody but himself" when he invited him to Moscow, "The Pilot" says.

Declaring that Stalin ought to speak out honestly and state whether he intends to allow religious liberty in Russia, "The Pilot" condemned his "state interview" with "an unauthorized private individual."

The editorial says in part:

"If Joseph Stalin should ever sincerely and honestly wish to reach an understanding with the Catholic Church, he knows the proper procedure. Never in his career has Stalin, when a political rapprochement with any country was desired, invited an unauthorized private individual to Russia for a State interview."

NOTABLE DEPARTURE

"In what was advertised as a bid for peace with the Church, Stalin allowed himself a notable departure from protocol. He invited to Russia a spokesman who had no right to speak, an agent who represented nobody but himself, an individual who could offer Stalin only the benefit of a private opinion—a private opinion which, as every American newspaper reader now suspects, was exceedingly ill-advised."

"The Communist dictator is perfectly well aware that an embassy from Russia to the Vatican to discuss terms of agreement would be cordially welcomed. The bloody criminal past for which this ex-seminarian must one day answer to God, need not necessarily be discussed. The Pope would be interested in just one point—is the Soviet government prepared now to recognize its people's right to religious liberty?"

"Since Joseph Stalin, as calculating and un-impulsive a politician as any in the world, chose to ignore normal procedure in this instance, one is driven reluctantly to the one possible conclusion; namely, that the advertised purpose of this latest 'mission to Moscow' was not the real purpose."

FACE REALITIES

"And once again, in the interests of that better world we all hope and pray for—since our new earth must not rest on a pier of lies—let's face realities. Religious liberty does not exist in Russia today."

"It's about time for our sinuous military ally to do a little honest talking. He intends to allow the Atlantic Charter to operate inside Russia—or he does not. If he means to allow religious liberty, Pope Pius XII would welcome a mission from Moscow as the answer to the prayers for Russia which Catholics have been offering up for more than 25 years. It is the head of the church Stalin must approach, not one of its unauthorized members. And Stalin knows this perfectly well—as all ways know it."

2 Swampscott Youths Die Flying for U. S.

Two Swampscott youths have lost their lives flying for their country, their parents were informed by the War and Navy departments today.

Ens. Kenneth W. Saville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Saville, of Redington st., was killed in action in the Pacific while piloting a Navy bomber. Second Lieut. Donald Wilcox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wilcox, of Francis rd., Beach Bluffs, lost his life in a plane crash near Oklahoma City.

4 West Point Grads From Hub

Four Greater Boston youths are included among the 474 men to be graduated from West Point June 6, the Army announced today. They will be commissioned second lieutenants in the Regular Army.

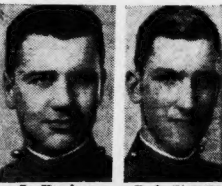

They are John Boning, Commonwealth ave., Back Bay; John B. Desmond, Woodlawn st., Jamaica Plain; Alfred M. McCoy, Jr., Walnut st., Newton Highlands; Clarence A. Stevens, Rosewood st., Mattapan.

Boning is the son of Mrs. Kathleen Boning and a graduate of Milton High School. He will enter the Army Air Force.

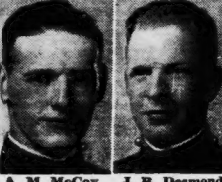

Desmond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome J. Desmond, graduated from Jamaica Plain High School. He will be commissioned in the field artillery.

McCoy, a graduate of Phillips Andover Academy, is the son of Lieut.-Comdr. and Mrs. Alfred M. McCoy, Sr. He will enter the field artillery.

Stevens, former member of Massachusetts National Guard, graduated from Boston Latin School. He is the son of Clarence A. Stevens. He obtained his appointment after studies at the Ft. Devens West Point Preparatory School. He will be commissioned in the Air Force.

Hub Catholic Population 2d

The archdiocese of Boston is second only to Chicago in Catholic population, publication of the official Catholic Directory for 1944 disclosed today.

Of the 23,419,701 Catholics in the United States, Alaska and Hawaiian Islands, there are 1,827,164 in Chicago; 1,333,075 in Boston, and 1,113,132 in New York. The archdiocese of Detroit and Newark each have more than 800,000.

The 1944 population is an increase of 474,454 over last year, according to the directory, despite the fact that the figures do not include the military ordinariate of the Army and Navy.

Mass Sunday to End Jail Mission

Officials and inmates of Charles st. jail will conclude a week-long Mass Sunday morning when Rev. Richard J. Hegarty, S. J., who has conducted the exercises, will bestow the Papal blessing.

Mass for the deceased officials and relatives of inmates will be offered tomorrow morning and a Holy Hour of Reparation will be held at night. Attendance by inmates throughout the week has been "very good," according to Acting Sheriff Mellett.

Air Hops 3 1-2c. A Mile After War

CLEVELAND, May 19 (AP)—A $250 air ferry service between New York and London, with a plane leaving every two or three hours, will be available 10 years after the war, predicts William A. M. Burden, assistant secretary of commerce.

"Within 10 years the air lines passenger traffic will be 100 to 150 per cent of the present railroad Pullman traffic," he said. "Part will be diversion from the railroad and part new traffic. Rates will probably be 3½ cents a mile. I look with more confidence than ever before to a very rapid expansion of scheduled transport flights."

Girl Auto Victim Weds in Hospital

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 19 (AP)—The bride wore a bed jacket, splints and iodine yesterday as Corp. Horace John Ferguson, Jr., and Miss Juanita Margaret Huffman were married—in a city hospital ward.

The wedding of the young Indianapolis couple had been arranged for May 18 at Ft. Jackson, S. C., but May 7 his fiancée was injured in an automobile accident in which her parents and six other persons were killed. Her legs were crushed and she suffered brutal bruises.

The only hitch in the ceremony came when Ferguson had difficulty putting the ring on the 17-year-old bride's cut and swollen finger.

120-mm. Shoots 4 Miles Higher

CAMP DAVIS, N. C., May 19 (AP)—Development by the Army of a 120-millimeter stratosphere-bombing aircraft gun has been revealed here.

The new weapon has a vertical range four miles greater than any other antiaircraft gun in use, said a War Department-sanctioned statement by Brig.-Gen. C. V. R. Schuyler, commanding Camp Davis Training Center, and Col. Perry W. Lewis, antiaircraft artillery board head.

The 120-mm. gun fires a 50-pound projectile and can be operated at an amazing rate of fire, blanketing huge stratosphere areas and subvels with flak.

The announcement said the weapon "powerfully augments" the 90-mm. gun in use on all fronts. It has a muzzle velocity exceeding that of the Army's best rifles.

War Writer Killed

LONDON, May 19 (AP)—Cyril Bewley, 40, war correspondent for the Kemsley newspapers in England, was killed in Italy when he walked into a minefield after leaving his jeep to take cover, a Reuters dispatch said today.

Whole Town of Norwood Out to Greet Hero Flier

If the next 29 days of his 30-day furlough are as exciting as the first, Maj. George Lee, 24-year-old Norwood flier, will be completely content to return to the comparative peace and quiet of an advanced air base in Italy.

As the youthful veteran of a record total of 164 sorties remarked, his furlough "was to be a secret." Only his family—and the rest of Norwood—knew about it; and the Germans or Italians never gave him a more exciting welcome.

The whole town turned out to pay honor to the former butcher boy who became one of the Army's fiercest and most distinguished fliers. The town's youngest majors and young Cross and Air Medal with Three Oak Leaf Clusters.

A public demonstration was held at the Municipal building, where a blessing was bestowed upon the young flier and two of his companions, Capt. Jack L. Beck, of Rock Face, Ind., and Capt. William Colgan, of Waycross, Ga., by Rt.

Hub Troubles Seen In Pigeon Food Ban

Threatening to impose $20 fines on persons feeding pigeons in the Public Garden is one thing, but forcing the pigeons to abandon their happy hunting grounds there and on the Common is something different.

That became clear today when bird experts warned that the embargo on free lunches, ordered by Park Commr. Long, would only make the birds more hardy than ever by forcing them to seek out more nourishing and nutritious sustenance.

Take away their free peanuts, and the pigeons will begin picketing restaurants and tea shops along Tremont st., Boylston st. and those precious hideaways on Beacon Hill, the bird fanciers said. And if those sources fail, they envision a Common stripped clean of its grass and the Public Garden's famous flower beds ravished as if swept by a swarm of locusts.

"The air over Beacon Hill will be black with pigeons, if this goes through," they warned, showing the influence of newly-developed air warfare on present-day thinking.

That would be bringing retribution right home to the Beacon Hill dwellers, who started the whole affair by complaining to the city authorities of the "damage" the birds had done to their property.

As a horrible after-thought... Suppose the pigeons did dwindle away and finally disappear, who's to know that the sea gulls wouldn't move in and take over.

Complaint Lists 21 Nude Bathers

Complaints against 21 Charlestown boys charging violation of a Cambridge ordinance by bathing in the nude were ordered issued today by Judge Stone in East Cambridge court.

Communions issued by Clerk Charles J. Cavanagh were served on the boys, ranging in age from 12 to 16 years, as an aftermath of Wednesday's uproar when the boys were corralled and locked in police cells for three hours after complaints they were in Broad Canal without trunks or suits.

1st Italian Front Vets at Devens

By JOHN W. ENGLISH

FT. DEVENS, May 19—Back from the wars today came 203 soldiers and one winsome Army nurse, Lieut. Donna Dadmun of Brook st., Framingham, all-veterans from the Italian front, most of whom saw action in North Africa, too.

If they had one thought in common, the 24-year-old nurse summed it up:

"There's no place like the United States of America."

Miss Dadmun had been on overseas duty 19 months and 21 days. Her hands had bandaged and cleared the wounded at Oran in North Africa. She had been one of the staunch American women who followed the armed forces to war thousands of miles from home.

GLAD TO BE HOME

"I'm glad I had the experience," she said, "but it's so good to be on American soil again I can hardly tell you what it's like to me."

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orin S. Dadmun, a graduate of Union Hospital Training School, Framingham, and formerly worked in the surgical ward at Leonard Morse Hospital, Natick.

Among the happy homecomers was Corp. William Colby, 25, Dewey st., Saugus, who spent more than two years overseas and escaped with "only one scratch." He had fought at the Anzio beachhead, moreover.

A veteran of Cassino was Corp. Louis Elias, 26, Washington st., Norwood, medical battalion man.

"It was rough going," he said. "We were up to our knees in mud most of the time but it is drying up for the boys over there now."

Pvt. Guy T. Spencer, Oxford, Mich., is going to visit some Boston friends. "Then I'm going to hitchhike home," he said. "I want to see what the country looks like."

TAKE FRENCH WIVES

Like most of the men, Spencer brought souvenirs. His included two helmets, German and Italian, and an ancient pistol given him by an Italian farmer. In Spencer's wallet was a picture of a pretty Italian girl. He didn't disclose on the circumstances.

"Yep, the boys are marrying there," he said, "but mostly they marry French girls."

Officers at the fort said they would be put through the necessary formalities within a matter of hours and sent on their way to rejoin their families.

The question of how soon they could get a drink of beer was frequently raised by the veterans. "One over there—and no milk, either," one of them said. "I'm parched for both and so is everybody else in this outfit."

Miss Isobel Owen, Everett special nurse, is expected to take the stand in Suffolk Superior court today in her $100,000 damage suit against Dr. John F. Williams, of Broadway. Everett, who she charges slandered her and secured her dismissal from the staff at Whidden Memorial Hospital.

50 Plants Face Strike Tieup

PEABODY, May 19—Following their vote to defy a War Labor Board order to end their walkout, which already has closed 39 North Shore leather plants and made 2700 workers idle, 200 striking firemen scheduled another mass meeting today, but spokesmen said there was "little likelihood" they would go back to work.

In refusing to heed the WLB ultimatum, the strikers, members of the International Union of Operating Engineers and Firemen, AFL, Local 93, forced closing of many plants because workers were unable to process hides due to lack of heat and power.

Union officials said continuation of the strike would bring a complete shutdown of some 50 plants and affect 4000 workers in Salem, Peabody, Lynn and Danvers. The

10 Foresters To Meet Sunday

Most 1000 delegates from all parts of the state are scheduled to attend the 65th annual convention of the Massachusetts Foresters of Foresters which opens Saturday evening at the New Ocean Hotel in Swampscott.

Activities, juvenile delinquency and veterans' rehabilitation are among problems to be discussed at business sessions.

Invitations to attend the convention dinner have been extended to numerous officials of church and state, including Bishop Richard J. Cushing, administrator of the Boston archdiocese, Gov. Saltonstall and Mayor Tobin.

Plan Relief for Jap Captives

By RAY RICHARDS

WASHINGTON, May 19 (INS)—The House Foreign Affairs Committee launched an extraordinary program today for the relief of the Japanese war prisoner horror.

Because western nations have never in modern history fought an enemy like Japan, the Committee effort is to proceed along unprecedented lines, outside the stereotyped methods of a diplomatic procedure.

Rep. Sol Bloom, New York Democrat, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, announced the appointment of a special new sub-committee which will devote itself exclusively to the solution of one of the most critical and difficult plights that has ever entrapped a large group of American citizens.

"We are going to do something positive, and at once, about the rescue of our people in Japanese hands," Bloom stated.

And Rep. Luther A. Johnson, Texas Democrat, chairman of the new Foreign Affairs War Prisoner Sub-Committee, said:

"There are straightforward ways, and indirect and subtle ways, of bringing about the return home of all the civilian prisoners in the Japanese camps, and all the incapacitated military prisoners. Some of the possible methods cannot be discussed publicly. But every slightest possible opportunity will be utilized.

"There are some aspects, both discouraging and encouraging, that simply cannot be revealed because of the adverse reaction from Japan that might be incurred. However, here is part of the situation:

"Japan did not sign the Geneva prisoner-of-war convention, but announced at the outset of this conflict that she would observe its terms.

"At last accounts, Japan was holding about 10,000 American military prisoners, whereas today we hold fewer than 500 Japanese military prisoners.

"Japan, at last reports, was holding about 15,000 American civilians, while we have about 65,000 Japanese aliens in this country, plus better than 20,000 Japanese-Americans who have declared disloyalty to the United States.

"But the alien Japanese in this country average about 55 years of age, and Japan does not want more than a few of them back.

"Therefore we have little with which to bargain for an out-and-out prisoner exchange."

Many other difficulties, Rep. Johnson said, enter into the situation under its present handling. Japan, for instance, refuses to devote a ship to prisoner exchange, and yet will not admit that the reason is the Japanese shipping shortage.

Japan is known to be short of sulfa drugs, and yet "stalls" in accepting Red Cross supplies because that might confess the shortage.

"We should appreciate expressions of public support in this proposition," Johnson said, "if legislation becomes necessary, we shall need the aid of a majority of the members of Congress, and the public should advise those members of its deep concern over the Americans who are suffering and dying behind Japanese barbed wire."

15,000 Still Out In War Plants

By the Associated Press
More than a dozen labor disputes in widely scattered sections of the country continued today, keeping an estimated 15,000 workers away from their jobs.

The work stoppages affected a variety of industries and touched four sections of the country.

In Michigan operations were returning to normal. A threatened strike of 45,000 members of Detroit locals of the AFL Teamsters Union was averted yesterday, following the end of the strike of the Independent Foreman's Ass'n of America Wednesday.

Workers in two plants ended their walkouts last night, while in Birmingham two separate disputes caused 2200 employees to leave their jobs.

About 1200 workers of the Pullman Standard Car Mfg. Co. walked out, virtually stopping production of freight cars at the Bessemer plant, while approximately 1000 miners walked out of four Birmingham coal mines.

The 3000 striking employees of the Mack Mfg. Co. of Allentown, Pa., voted last night to return to work.

NEWARK, N. J., May 19 (AP)—Only four husbands in the country are getting War Department dependency benefits because of wives enlisted as WACs, Brig.-Gen. H. N. Gilbert, Office of Dependency Benefits director, said.

Only 2.5 per cent of the estimated 75,000 WACs have arranged benefits for any members of their families. The ODB, Gen. Gilbert said, is handling only 82 WAC cases involving children. The remainder—besides the four husbands—consists of 2070 cases of class B dependents, which are parents, brothers and sisters.

Acquit Campbell In Death of Wife

WORCESTER, May 19—Jesse A. Campbell, 25-year-old war worker of Rome, Ga., was a free man today, acquitted by a Superior Court jury on a charge of murdering his wife, Irene, 24, who was found drowned in a bathtub at the Hotel Standish here Jan. 26.

Campbell, the China-born son of missionary parents, took the news calmly when the jury handed in its verdict after deliberating eight hours and 10 minutes. Judge James C. Donnelly thanked the jurors for performing "a most important and valuable duty."

Asst. Dist. Atty. Albert B. J. A. Campbell Cendella had contended in his closing argument that Campbell had planned the death of his estranged wife.

His counsel, Atty. John S. Derham, insisted Campbell was the victim of unfortunate circumstances and that Mrs. Campbell had slipped and struck her head on entering the tub and thus accidentally drowned. There was a cut on the back of her head.

It was brought out in testimony that Campbell was engaged to Miss Ruby Jane Wyatt of Canton, Ga., just before he came north to ask his wife to obtain a divorce.

Early Potatoes Up 5 Pct. Over 1943

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration established new ceiling prices for 1944 early white potatoes which will result in an average retail increase of 5 per cent over last year's cost.

The new prices, effective May 22 and extending through June 30, were recommended by the War Food Administration to stimulate production.

U. S. Alcohol Sent to Russia

WASHINGTON, May 19 (INS)

—Two foreign economic administration officials told Congress that Russia receives lend-lease supplies of alcohol from this country even though the Soviet Union permits the manufacture of alcohol for beverage purposes.

Sidney H. Scheur, executive director of the FEA's bureau of supplies, told the Senate Judiciary Committee investigating the nation's liquor shortage that Russia and Great Britain receive lend-lease supplies of alcohol from the United States for commercial uses.

Clarence L. Bleu, FEA assistant counsel, said there was some question as to whether Great Britain permits beverage alcohol manufacture.

Jailed for Carrying Revolver in Capitol

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—Joseph Woludski, 35, who was arrested May 2 for attempting to take a loaded revolver into the House gallery, was sentenced in municipal court to a year in jail on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

Woludski, who pleaded guilty to the charge May 3, said he had the gun with him because it was an antique and he feared it would be stolen if left at his home.

Are you getting your full share of Free Red Points?

PROBABLY NOT. Surveys show that most women are turning in only half as much used fats as they could—getting only half the extra free red points they might. You're undoubtedly passing up lots of ways to save fat faster without realizing it.

FOR INSTANCE, those negligible bits of fat you trim from chops and roasts... not worth saving, you think? Just try hoarding them in a small bowl in the ice-box! Keep adding other trimmings and table scraps. Once a week when the oven is on, melt them down. You'll be surprised to find you've rescued a whole lot more of urgently needed fat!

EVERY SINGLE DROP is worth saving. Why, just one tablespoonful is enough to make 5 machine-gun bullets! Or enough to make protective vaccines for 73 men! So make it a rule never to throw away the trimmings and scraps. It's just as easy to help our boys by dumping those little bits in the bowl, as to help the enemy by dumping them in the garbage can!

START TODAY to save more used fat—get more points. Any tin can will do to save it in. When the can is full take it to your butcher and collect 2 free red points and 4¢ for every pound.

Parades Will Mark American Day Here

Two parades, one a stirring military spectacle featuring the first public appearance of more than 100 Greater Boston war heroes, veterans of the South Pacific now home on furlough, the other a colorful assembly of various groups representing the United Nations, will be features of Sunday evening's impressive "I Am an American" Day ceremonies at the Hatch Shell on the Charles River Esplanade.

The war heroes will be guests of honor of the city at the exercises, and will march in the parade as members of the staff of Chief Marshal Maj. John R. Canavan.

With units of the Army, Navy, Coast Guards and Marines, their bands and colors taking part, the parade will organize at Boylston st., between Dartmouth and Exeter sts., at 6 p. m., and will get under way at 6:30 p. m.

The parade route will be along Boylston to Tremont st., to Park st., to Embankment rd., then to the Hatch Shell.

The second parade, featuring the gay native costumes of groups representing Allied costumes, will follow in a march around the Shell. Participants will include a singing and dancing group from the Russian War Relief Society, headed by Olga Bogach, and others representing the United Yugoslavian Relief Ass'n, Polish War Relief, the Czechoslovakian Club, and the Order of Ahepa, representing the Greek section.

There will be a large delegation from Chinatown, including members of the Goon Mah family, Fred D. Wong, prominent Chinese business man, yesterday called upon all American Chinese in the district to participate in the celebration.

Choral musical will be supplied by the WAC Choral Group and by Baron and Baroness von Trapp and their family, who fled Austria just before Hitler's invading armies overran their country.

One of the dramatic features of the observance will be the crowning, following the pageant, of "Miss Victory," a girl selected for this honor from Massachusetts contestants.

Historic British Stamp Sells for $1360

LONDON, May 19 (AP)—A record price of $1360 was paid at a stamp auction yesterday for a historic two-penny blue stamp divided and used at Hull on March 27, 1841, to pay penny postage on two separate letters.

One was posted to Beverly and one to Hull and both on portions of the original envelopes now have come to light. This is the first known bisected stamp and the rarest in Britain.

AEF Flier Freed Of Manslaughter

CAMBRIDGE, England, May 19 (AP)—Second Lieut. Robert N. Gore of New York city was acquitted by a U. S. court martial today of charges of involuntary manslaughter which resulted when his fighter plane crashed on top of a truck near Cambridge last February, killing the driver. Gore was fined $660, however, for damaging his plane.

Boston Library Top Donor With 41 Tons in Paper Drive

With a donation of 10,000 old books and huge quantities of magazines and newspapers, the Boston Public Library today became the largest contributor to date to the waste paper salvage drive being conducted by the Advertising Club of Boston.

Campaign officials estimated that paper from the library will total more than 41 tons. Most of it is in the form of outdated textbooks and reading matter that has lost its value and for which the library has had no call in years. Duplicates of all documents that may have some historical value will be kept by the library.

Selection of the library salvage was supervised by Milton E. Lord, library director, and John J. Connolly, assistant director.

Fred Bliss, president of the Advertising Club, asked all members to interview 15 to 20 business firms in their area and urge additional paper contributions before the windup of the drive June 1.

It is estimated this will result in the solicitation of some 2000 concerns. Firms will be asked to bundle all waste paper they have and prepare it for collection. If the amount exceeds 500 pounds the Advertising Club will arrange for a truck to make a special collection at the plant. If firms have less than 500 pounds, they are requested to place it in street bins for regular collections.

Dies Hints at Break With Deal

JASPER, Tex., May 19 (AP)—Rep. Martin Dies (D.) of Texas indicated that his decision not to seek re-election could be considered a definite break with the Roosevelt administration.

Dies told a reporter for the Houston Post at his country home that between June 1 and 15 he intends to lay on the desks of American newspaper editors a documented denunciation of the New Deal. He promised disclosures more sensational than anything his congressional committee on un-American activities has ever yet announced.

"Unfortunately for the country," Dies said, "we have never been able to convince the people how deadly the Communist menace is. The elements in the national administration which have hampered and opposed the committee have had too strong a control over the channels of public information."

British Raid Repulsed

LONDON, May 19 (AP)—The Berlin radio said today that British Commando raid on the Aegean Sea island of Paros was repulsed during the night of May 15-16. Paros is about 100 miles north of Nazi-occupied Crete.

Chiefs Jailed In Turkish Plot

LONDON, May 19 (AP)—Arrest of several leaders of the Turkish pro-Nazi organization, "Pan-Turanian," said to have been plotting to overthrow the present government in neutral Turkey, was announced in an Ankara broadcast which declared that martial law had been imposed at Istanbul.

The broadcast, recorded by the British Ministry of Information, said that a series of raids conducted by military authorities had uncovered documents disclosing that the organization had been "building up a nation-wide organization, preparing plans and signing agreements aimed at the overthrow of the present regime."

The radio said the organization "made use of ciphers and codes in communications with its members."

other man around you—one right here in Boston!"

I nodded, playing up to this new lead.

"He's wonderful, he's deep, he's perfect," she continued, "B-U-T (all the ominousness of hell itself seemed to be in that long drawn out B-U-T) I couldn't live with him."

And that dark intimation was all I was able to get out of "Madame" regarding this mysterious suitor. Evidently I was to return to learn the worst in another visit—I was not to trust this beau until Madame had taken another look at the cards when they might reveal more than they were doing that day.

The setting for these dark revelations was as sordid as Madame's talk. Her house is dirty and sparsely furnished with shabby odds and ends.

SLOPPY APPEARANCE

Madame's appearance matched her house. Her hair looked as if it hadn't been combed for days, her dress was spotted and wrinkled and her shoes had run-down heels.

Yet Madame is a good-looking large woman—dark as a gypsy with liquid dark eyes and a personality flaming with vitality. A chain smoker, she kept lighting one cigarette from the other as she discoursed with great assurance of far places she had visited. These seemed to include Tunis, Morocco and Mexico, as well as most of California.

Contrary to some of her colleagues she did not object to having a third party in the room while she "read" into the future, so Helen Farlow, my collaborator, was able to hear all her harsh pronouncements.

But both Helen and I had to promise that we would not tell the Red Cross about the "bad" things she might see in the cards in store for us.

After having torn my life apart by telling me my "fiance" was dead and my next best man friend had something mysteriously wrong with him, Madame fed me puerile generalities. She spoke vaguely of a man with broad shoulders in the office where I work who should watch out for his health and hinted darkly that a blonde woman posing as my friend was secretly jealous of me.

"HUSBAND ISN'T HAPPY"

When she read Helen Farlow's fortune she assumed that Helen was a spoiled brat and warned her: "Your husband isn't happy in his home, honey. I'm not saying he's untrue to you, honey, but he will look somewhere else for a little fun if he isn't happier at home."

For some reason she had assumed that Helen lived with her family while her Navy husband is overseas, all of which is untrue, since Helen is happily married to a civilian and her family is a thousand miles away.

"You ought to get away from your family, honey," she kept warning Helen. "Don't live with them. Go somewhere else and get a place of your own where you can wait alone for your husband."

She kept stressing that Helen's husband was lonely and discontented and even hinted he had taken to drinking while in the service.

"There are women lying in wait for lonely sailors like him," she said, perhaps trying to instill a little jealousy which would bring Helen back for a second visit.

Her next prognostication was just as far off the track. She told Helen, who has two perfectly healthy children, that she would never be able to bear a child until she had had an operation!

her and blandly asked us to come again.

She thought she had us both hooked—Helen with her hints that her far-away husband might fall for some other girl and yours truly with her mysterious vagueness about the nearby suitor slated to supplant the dead "fiance" listed as "missing in action."

Evidently we were to come back and let her take another look at the cards after we had brooded on these things for a few days or a few weeks.

And this is the sort of stuff being fed to "waiting" mothers and wives who, in their despair for lack of news of their men on fighting fronts, are foolish enough to consult these people.

Another article, written by Helen Farlow, will appear in tomorrow's Boston America.

Shall We Let China Be Knocked Out of War?

IN SPITE of the fact that China has launched, on the Salween river, the first offensive in her war with Japan, China is in great danger of withdrawing from the conflict.

This would be a major blow at us.

It would leave vast areas of China in Japan's unmoested possession. It would also release a formidable army, fleets of airplanes and vessels of all kinds to be used against us.

An important and exclusive dispatch to the Hearst papers from Washington says:

"There is every reason to believe, in the opinion of Congressional observers, that long-tottering Chinese resistance is collapsing at last."

The dispatch further stated that the Chinese ambassador, Wei-Tao-Ming, had called at the White House personally to deliver a letter from Chiang Kai-shek to President Roosevelt.

The Chinese ambassador has just returned from Chungking and he believes that Japan is about to organize a terrific drive on the Chinese capital to knock China out of the war.

He should know.

Representative Phillips, of California, voices without a doubt the sentiments of the whole country when he says:

"I think President Roosevelt should make public the text of the Generalissimo's communication."

"If the contents cannot with safety be told to the public, then Congress, or at least the committees of Congress most directly concerned with prosecuting the war, should be informed."

"Things have been going so badly with China for so long a time and now have taken such a sudden and tremendous turn for the worse that we may soon have to readjust our whole thinking about the war and the part Congress plays in it."

Congress at least should know the exact facts about China and certainly should know what Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek said to President Roosevelt.

In the opinion of Representative Phillips, that letter contains "a desperate and despairing plea."

THE PRESENT deplorable predicament of China is directly traceable to the Administration's refusal to recognize the fact that in relation to the welfare of the United States, Japan is ENEMY NO. 1.

That makes China our most important ally. Japan should from the beginning have been our first and major front and Germany our second front.

We have, therefore, grossly and tragically neglected China, which has for years in her war with Japan been really waging a war for US and for what is best of civilization in Asia.

Other West Coast Congressmen have joined with Representative Phillips "in stating that the present Japanese victory (over China) is a realization of a fear they have entertained ever since the epochal cast of the die that directed primary Allied action against Germany."

A great catastrophe stares us in the face from the Asiatic area of the war.

It is the possible collapse and surrender of China to Japan.

Congress can alone remedy this by rushing necessary aid to China.

The country should know NOW just what Chiang Kai-shek fears and what he desires from us to save China.

China's fate may be bound up with ours, for be it remembered—

Japan and Communist Russia are virtual allies and the latter has its eyes fixed on the north-west provinces of China.

Washington Scene ..

By George Dixon

(Distributed by King Features Synd., Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

WASHINGTON, May 19—Practically everybody else having had their say about the 30 per cent cabaret tax, I would now like to add mine.

The principal reason I am against the tax is that women—no matter what you may have heard to the contrary—are not essentially thrifty.

The music-and-dancing tax is impoverishing a lot of weak-willed dopes who do not wish to be impoverished. This is no hearsay. I have absolute inside stuff because I am one of them.

Through absolutely no fault of my own—except having failed to take a course in will power—we are being forced into the 30 per cent traps. And the forcing, almost without exception, is being done by dames who think they are wonderful bargain-hunters because they spend $3.75 on taxis to run down a bargain, the total cash saving of which is 19 cents.

I shall now cite a case in point. It must have been duplicated thousands of times since the 30 per cent went on. In fact, it seems as if it has happened that often to me alone.

Before imposition of the tax I took a lady to one of our hotels and started to steer her into the gilded and mirrored chamber where there was music and dancing. I wanted to dance about as much as I wanted an appendectomy with whipper-cream. But I was playing safe.

THE LADY, however, backed away as if the point were a prison and pleaded:

"Do we have to go in there with all that unholly racket? Can't we go into one of the quiet lounges, where we can talk?"

Well—two days after the tax went on I took the same dame to the same hotel. Convinced by now that she was a deep-thinking type whose only desire was to improve her mind by listening to my brilliant conversation, I headed her for the quiet lounge.

And this (accompanied by various sniffs) is what I got:

"Of course, if you don't want to spend the money on me, it's perfectly all right. Don't for a minute imagine that I mind being buried in a back room where nothing is happening. I can always listen to you talk."

"The mere fact that everybody else is in the dancing room having a good time needs't bother you anyway, I suppose you get tired of all the fun and excitement, taking other women in there."

That is why I am against the 30 per cent tax.

A BRAND-NEW Congressman, whom I am not going to identify because he seems to be a very decent citizen, arrived in Washington recently to take over his new office. He had been elected to fill out an unexpired term.

The gentleman had seldom been in Washington before, and has since copped a plea that he knew little or nothing about the workings here. But, having just become a member of Congress, he was feeling his oats.

At Union Station he got into a taxi. There was one other passenger, a sort of unsophisticated looking party, who seemed to be looking wild-eyed at the Capitol dome.

"That is a wonderful building," remarked the new Congressman, who hadn't yet set foot in it himself. "It is where I legislate."

"You do?" gasped the other.

"It must be fascinating."

"It is a great responsibility," said the embryo solon, gravely.

"Being a member of Congress these days is a—er—great responsibility."

YOU HAVE no doubt heard of or know two brothers who married two sisters? But did you ever hear of three brothers marrying three sisters? It has happened in Minnesota. Three brothers named Kurmure married three sisters named Hartjen. Have a reader named Nathan Hale Silverman. I have never before known a man named after Nathan Hale. Why has this great patriot been so greatly ignored in this respect?

BRIEFLY: Lieut. Gen. Patton has his faults, no doubt, but he hasn't lost a battle yet... In normal times there are about twelve million enthusiastic fishermen in this country. There are as many or more enthusiastic hunters. These hunters own about eight million gun dogs. Business men and editors should keep such statistics as these strongly in mind... That Swedish steel firm which was founded in 1241 A. D. and is therefore the world's oldest industrial organization, recently declared a 12 per cent dividend. Those in charge of the battle plans of the United Nations are not pleased with Sweden selling so much steel to the Germans.

PASSING BY: Eddie Heywood Jr. Bandmaster. His band has the ideal number of members for a small band, which is five. There have been many celebrated bands of this type. If you can't think of six five-

"It must be" said the other.

"Doesn't it exhaust you?"

"Yes," sighed the Congressman. "It means being on the go day and night. I don't know how I stand it."

The new Congressman then launched into a lecture on the operations of government, explaining everything from Congressional procedure to the workings of the various committees. He was still explaining to his obviously impressed passenger when the cab pulled up at his hotel.

The cab, minus the new Congressman, pulled away, whereupon the chuckling driver said to the remaining passenger:

"Well, Senator, I guess you know all about Congress now!"

The wide-eyed unsophisticated was Senator "Happy" Chandler of Kentucky!

ONE MORE ITEM about Senator Chandler: He was in the Mayflower lobby with Frank Freeman, President of Paramount Pictures, who has signed the Senator's 13-year-old daughter, Mimi, to a movie contract. Chandler remarked he had just received a letter from Bing Crosby to the effect that Bing had bought a Nevada ranch from Ed Flynn, the Bronx political boss.

"Bing must be blowing his top," said Freeman, seriously. "Why, he had to borrow money to pay his income tax!"

I WISH to report a murder in the new House Office Building.

The crime, which has been hushed up, occurred in the suite of Clare Boothe Luce. It was precipitated because the victim insisted on eating an egg. The killer is Winnie, the female of two love birds presented to the Congresswoman from Connecticut. The other day Winnie laid an egg—and Frankie started eating it. So Winnie knocked him off!

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS:

Q—You see comparatively few dogs in Florida. I understand the Miami section is not healthy for dogs. How about it? A—First time I heard such a suggestion. How about all those dogs at the innumerable Southern Florida dog tracks?

Q—How did it happen so many famous Americans of our Revolutionary War period had so few children?

A—While George Washington had no children other famous Americans of the Revolutionary period were well up to the average in number of offspring. Some were quite prolific papas. For example, Paul Revere was the father of 16 children.

Q—So you studied the Bible in college. Then name the longest chapter in the Bible so your old professor will not have to blush for your ignorance.

A—My Biblical studies were not extensive, though I did take a course in college called "The Bible as Literature." However, the question you ask is easy. Answer is the One Hundred and Nineteenth Psalm.

Dispatch says, due to a food shortage, the citizens of Rome, Italy, are eating grass. That will keep them alive. Grass is packed with vitamins and is good for the health if you can manage to get it down... Sixty per cent of birth control in the United States take place at home. That's a very nice place for a blessed event. No chance of the babies getting mixed up there.

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, May 19—Bette Davis has looked at Elizabeth Bergner in "Stolen Life," a European film, over and over again. Those on the Warner lot didn't know why her interest until it was whispered around that it will be Bette's next picture following "The Corn Is Green."

Bette will not only play the dual role of twin girls—the good one and bad one—both of whom fall in love with the same man, but she will assist Jack Chertok in producing.

Bette has had a yen for a long time to produce pictures and I watched her on "Mr. Skeffington" and noticed how sound her ideas are when she makes suggestions. "Stolen Life" will not become official until Jack Warner okayes it next week when he returns from New York, but Bette generally gets what she wants. So I guess we can say it is settled.

I HAVE my Russian friend Gregory Ratoff's word for it that his signing of two Metropolitan opera stars is the "biggest" movie story of the week. The artists who have so enthused Greg are Leonard Warren, the baritone, whose voice is also well known to radio listeners, and Blanche Theboul, the soprano who won last year's audition at the "Met." Both songsters go into "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and they are due to arrive in town this weekend.

NOW YOU wouldn't say that Universal's plan to star Turhan

Bey in "The Return of the Sheik" verged on the shades of Rudy Valentino—or would you? Turhan doesn't look one bit like the greatest lover of them all, but he's definitely a "sheik" type for the movies and there's no reason why he shouldn't blaze his own trail. This "sheik" opus is to be Turhan's first official starring movie, although he's rating featured billing with Maria Montez and Susanna Foster in "Bowery to Broadway" and in his next, with Maria and Jon Hall, "Queen of the Nile."

JUST BEFORE Paul Soskin took off for overseas he signed Ben Hecht to write and direct "The Life Story of William Shakespeare." Soskin is associated with Arthur Rank, the biggest movie power in England, and the plan now is to make the picture in England.

MAJOR CLARK GABLE, wearing his new maple leaves, arrived in town today. He's back to do a little work on the film he made for the Army. Clark is very happy about his promotion, and the reception the film he shot overseas received when it was shown to Gen. Arnold. Clark isn't the type to talk about any of his plans. He lets Uncle Sam do his talking. But, he wouldn't be human not to be elated over his well deserved promotion. He had first thought he would be sent to Florida to a gunnery school, but that's been changed. Clark is past the age for active service and it wouldn't surprise me if he were returned to civilian life. However, he says he knows nothing about it.

"I don't know what's wrong yet. They're still in conference!"

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: A scout from the East sense word that Chico Marx, who is appearing in "Slap Happy," Lou Walters' variety show, will wed Mary Dees as soon as his divorce is final. He has already given her an aquamarine ring set with diamonds, and is telling his friends that his intentions are marriage. Mary Dees is the blonde girl whose resemblance to Jean Harlow put her in the news and gave her the Harlow role in "Saratoga" after Jean passed on.

Lucille Ball has made a date with the stork? Lili Damita is giving her smiles to Lieut. Joseph Kernell in Palm Beach; Ann Southern has finished "Maise Goes to Reno" and will make no more pictures until after the birth of her baby; Wynn Rocamora has taken an option on "The Life of Russ Columbo," the singer whose tragic death so shocked Hollywood a few years ago; Nancy Nugent, Elliott's 11-year-old, is being tested by Lester Cowan for "Tomorrow the World;" Pev Marley has received word that Linda Darnell has arrived safely overseas; talked with Barbara Hutton Grant who has just parted with her tonsils. She went home today feeling, she says, better than she has in a long time; Dorothy Lamour is resting comfortably following an operation.

A POLL DISCLOSED the WAVES prefer to have Bing Crosby sing "That Old Black Magic" in his WAVE movie; William Lundigan, stationed at Quantico, has been made a corporal in the Marines; Betty Grable has suggested that Harry James auction his famous trumpet for a War Bond and Harry has agreed with the proviso that he also be allowed to bid; Herbert Wilcox, writer friends that Anna Neagle was a sensation in Jane Austen's "Emma" when it opened in Manchester; a foursome attracting attention at the Mocambo were George Jessel and his ex, Lois Andrews, with the Charlie Chaplins; the big smile on Marsha Hunt's face is because of the visit of her husband, Capt. Jerry Hopper, who is here on leave.

WOMAN OVERCOMES HER CONSTIPATION!

"Once Took Laxatives 3 or

Are you, too, a disappointed
"doer"? Then read this unsolicited letter!

"I'd started working nights and with my way of living changed around. I soon found I was taking 3 or 4 laxatives a week, and feeling terrible. Then I heard about KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN through your radio program. I started taking it and within my daily helping of ALL-BRAN,
I am regular as clockwork. Thanks for what your ALL-BRAN has done for me!"
Mrs. Myrtle Wood, 214 Beaumont St.,
Akron, Ohio.

Yes, it does seem like magic, the way KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN helps so many people. "Gets at" one common cause of constipation—lack of enough dietary "cellulose" elements! That's because ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements —which help the friendly colon flora stuff up and prepare the colonic contents for easy, natural elimination! KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative! It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

If your constipation is this kind,
eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly with milk and fruit, or mixed with other cereals. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't find real help! Insist on genuine
ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

Oregon Picks GOP Delegates

By JACK BELL

Associated Press Staff Writer.
The rank and file's chance to designate its choice for the Republican presidential nomination arrived in a strategic place today—
Oregon's preferential primary where write-in balloting is relatively small, the psychological stakes are high since the winner will be credited with grass roots support in a northwestern area expected to be a battle ground between the two major parties in November.

As elsewhere, the leading candidates apparently are Gov. Thomas
E. Dewey of New York, who says he isn't in the race; Gov. John W.
Bricker of Ohio, who says he is,
and Lieut.-Comdr. Harold E. Stassen, who says he will run if he is nominated.

A victory for Dewey would boost him along in a race where he already has captured the support of 324 of the 898 Republican delegates thus far chosen. Victory for Bricker, who has 56 delegates, would indicate a change in the last night when District of Columbia Republicans in convention instructed their three delegates to

Expert Advises Women Pause, Pull Up Garters

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 19 (AP)—Louise Whitney, who knows about hosiery, thinks it would be a splendid thing for a nation at war if all women would pause at this moment and pull their garters up a couple of inches.

That concerned tug, Miss Whitney said, would insure placement of the garter on the welt of the stocking and, if women persisted in the practice, would result in hosiery savings amounting to thousands of dollars. That, said Miss Whitney, an executive of a New York rayon factory, would be worthwhile for the women and conserve war-vital materials used in parachutes.

The trim, blond business woman, who came here to address the first Southwest Chemurgic Clinic, said the girls were too prone to place their garters an inch or so below the welt, which is a reinforced band at the top. The single thickness of the stocking proper is not designed to withstand the stress of the garter and runs are apt to start.

Miss Whitney had another tip. Too many, she said, "just buy some stockings" without making sure they are getting their proper foot, ankle and leg size. The result is strains and stresses in the Armed with hand extinguishers, the firemen put on a demonstration in the middle of Commonwealth ave. on how to put out a gasoline fire. But a repair truck had to be called to fix a broken gas pump, before the ladder could return to the station.

Black Flea Beetles Are Now Attacking Victory Gardens

by FOSTER H. WEISS

Head, Vegetable Gardening Dept., Norfolk County Agricultural School, and director of the Boston Record-American-Advertiser demonstration garden on Boston Common.

The small black flea beetle is one of the first pests to attack the Victory Garden. You can start to control plant disease now by combatting these beetles, which will attack tomato and other crops when the plants are first set in the field.

The damage inflicted by beetles is twofold. (1) The plant is injured and checked because they feed on the leaf. (2) As this insect is active, it tends to spread disease from one plant to another. The best control is to spray or dust your plant with half-strength Bordeaux. Full-strength will damage tomato foliage.

If you have not planted your peas by now, I would suggest saving the seed for next year. It is too late, especially after the hot spell we have had.

Lettuce

In some cases where lettuce has not been planted there is still time provided you use the proper varieties. It is too late for the iceberg types, but a planting from seed of either Big Boston or Grand Rapids will give fair results.

Lettuce needs a rich fertile soil that is high in organic matter and plant food. Also a steady supply of moisture. Apply fertilizer at the rate of 5 pounds per 100 square feet for this crop and side dress with nitrate of soda if available.

Plant seeds in shallow drills and thin plants according to variety requirements.

Cabbage maggot is still working so it is still necessary to use the lar paper discs when setting

DOROTHY KALBFLEISCH, post deb daughter of Mrs. Karl Kalbfleisch of Wellesley Hills, is typical of the many Boston society girls who have proven they have what it takes to hold down responsible war jobs.

STABBED IN THE BACK BY ARTHRITIS

Now is the time of the year when Arthritis is on the loose, stabbing victims after victims with its deadly dagger of pain. If you are one of those unfortunate people, here is important information for you to know. Many people suffering from crippling arthritis pains in back, knees, shoulders and hands, never suspect that these pains may be caused, in some cases, by excessive acids within the body. As a dietary aid in the faster neutralization of these excessive acids, which in turn may tend to bring speedier pain relief in this regard, Vic-Dre Sodium Tablets were devised by a well-known food nutritionist. Vic-Dre Sodium Tablets contain food sodium and food iodine, and minerals of nutritional value which may prove to be helpful to many arthritis sufferers. Vic-Dre Sodium Tablets are free from all harmful chemical drugs. They are not addictive and contain no harmful ingredients of any kind.

GET OUT THIS ADVERTISEMENT and present it with $1.55 at any Nature Food Centres Stores to get your Vic-Dre Sodium Tablets. Take them as directed on the label and if they do not bring soothing relief to your aching joints and muscles faster than any other dietary aid you have ever used, THE TRIAL IS PRICELESS! Just return the bottle and get your money back. Vic-Dre Sodium Tablets cost only a few cents. Buy 30 and get 30 more free. (600 Tablet Economy Size, $3.25.) Mail orders sent postpaid. School Ouster Hearing Set Judge Felix Forte today ordered 11 Lowell city officials, including Mayor Woodbury F. Howard, to appear in Middlesex Court in Cambridge Monday for a hearing on two legal actions resulting from the demolition of two Lowell school officials.

Vincent M. McCartin, deposed school superintendent, brought a petition before the court for a writ of mandamus against the mayor and three members of the school committee who voted his demotion. He claims the action of the mayor and the three school committee members was prompted by ill will and malice.

The second action is a bill in equity brought by 10 Lowell taxpayers, seeking to prevent the city election commissioners from certifying names on a referendum petition circulated in behalf of McCartin and Raymond A. Sullivan, former Lowell high school headmaster, who also was demoted.

Avery Sues Marshall Field

CHICAGO, May 19 (INS)—A suit charging Marshall Field with defamation and seeking a million dollars damages for a series of articles appearing in the Chicago Sun was filed today by attorneys for Sewall Avery, chairman of the board of directors of Montgomery Ward & Co.

The suit charged Field, publisher of the Sun, printed a series of articles starting May 15 in which there were "untrue, false and defamatory statements and false, malicious and scandalous statements."

The articles printed in the newspaper had the purpose "of a cam-

My Day By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

CHICAGO, THURSDAY—Yesterday afternoon I had the pleasure of seeing Air Commodore P. Huskinson and Mrs. Huskinson. Dame Rachel E. Crowley had given him a letter of introduction to my husband, and so he came to tea. Air Commodore Huskinson is the inventor of the 4000 and the 12,000-pound bombs now being used. He is a most interesting man who has won a victory over a handicap which he suffered in this war, and therefore he is an inspiration to all who meet him.

In the evening I attended the first anniversary celebration of the USO Club operated here by the Salvation Army. They had a wonderful birthday cake, which I was privileged to cut, but, fortunately, only one slice fell to my knife, or I think I would have been busy for a long time.

TODAY I AM IN CHICAGO. I arrived here very early this morning and managed to get a few hours of sleep at the hotel before speaking on the responsibilities of citizenship at the convention of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America. I will attend the luncheon given by the women's auxiliaries. I am returning to New York, since for the next few days I must be in the country seeing that some necessary painting and work is done in the house. When one has so little time at home, it is hard to see that the things which must be done are done, so that the house can be used when it is needed.

ON THE 17TH of this month, the June issue of the Woman's Home Companion is publishing an article describing the program on "Education for Democracy" which has been used so successfully in Springfield, Mass.

In Springfield, they have not preached to their children. They have simply taught them facts, facts about the contributions of all the people who make up the citizens of the United States.

Your Success Story

Every time you do or say anything, no matter how small, that expresses your consideration for other people, you're adding a shining sentence to the story of good manners.—MRS. BEEKMAN.

SINGING IN THE BATHTUB is probably a national pastime... but if you're not one of the legion who already give vent to powerful vocal chorals in pursuit of the ritual of cleanliness... you'll want to if you soften the water with shiny green crystals that melt into a haze of aromatic delight.

Bathing is more than a regimen of cleanliness and relaxation. In warm days it should be stimulating and invigorating... filling you full of pep to go forth for the day's busy schedule... or at night for a sleep undisturbed and restful.

It is so utterly feminine to bathe in water that has been softened by a fragrant agent... that foams and bubbles into millions of tiny globules as the water rushes over its crystal formation.

So much more can be derived from a bath than mere cleanliness if you use such a beauty assistant as crystals. It tenderizes your skin... it relaxes tired muscles and reduces overwrought nerves. It makes your skin soft and supple to the touch. And, it can supplement a facial... making your complexion receptive to the benefits of creams and cosmetics by opening up the pores.

WILL BOOST YOUR MORALE

It is such leisure-rich refreshment to fatigued bones to soak them in fragrant-softened water. And, as you loll in a sea of perfumed soapiness you once again feel like a new person.

You know what dry perfume tucked away in your dresser drawer does for your lingerie and delicate dainties. Bath crystals do the same for your bath and tired body... giving renewed, refreshing, delightful cleanliness... and, the luxurious feeling you experience boosts your morale to a wonder-high.

Just don't bathe... that is a forgone conclusion... bathe in exquisite delight... in rich water of enlivening propensities.

Because of the need of such body goodness, a local store had special crystals made up for them exclusively. They come in a large bottle and have been reduced to a most inexpensive price-tag.

For the name of these special bath crystals, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, except the week-end, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Quaker Girl Style of '44

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THE Quaker Girl is an American pin-up girl, in the sense that this demure and dainty maiden of our early history is still the dream girl of many a man, and of good designers.

This spring there is a Quaker Girl in the styles, and her sponsor is that very clever and very personal designer, Carrie Mann. Miss Du-lin has sketched her for you to see. Isn't she nice? I think so.

This dress is made of black chiffon which is put over a foundation of white marquisette, and that in turn over one of Quaker grey taffeta. The effect is simply stunning. Made in the real Quaker girl cut, this dress has the collar and cuffs very richly embroidered in gold and pearls, to belie the demure simplicity of the dress, and to give it that dash of worldliness that makes it so completely charming.

TO GET THE KINKS out of your body... and to tenderize your skin... there is nothing lovelier than a bath softened with delightfully fragrant, shiny green crystals... especially prepared for a local store. Then, like gorgeous Betty Grable, you, too can sing in the bath-tub feeling bright and gay.

Substantial Breakfast Needed These War Days

By MARTHA LEE

MOST OF US never realize it—but wartime living takes a lot out of us. We work harder, and in turn we play harder when we get the chance. This applies especially to war-workers, to working mothers, to men who are putting more into their jobs to make up for those in the service.

Nutrition experts tell us that one of the best safeguards against fatigue is a good substantial breakfast. This good start for an energetic day not only helps to guard good health, it helps us do a better job.

Doctors and families as well would certainly approve a breakfast like this. It's the kind of breakfast for a morning full of energy. This famous American breakfast cereal is made from 100 per cent whole wheat, one of the Basic 7 Foods our government advises to guard good health in wartime.

The Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES

DON'T DO THIS. A display of affection is always embarrassing to others present. Your beau will know you love him even if you don't hold his hand every minute of your visit with his people!

CREAMED EGGS ON SHREDDED WHEAT BISCUIT

4 eggs
1 tsp. butter or margarine
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. paprika
3 tbsp. grated cheese
Split and toast the biscuit. Break the eggs separately in a saucer. Melt the butter or margarine in a wide saucepan, then add the cream, and when it is hot slip in the eggs. When the eggs are nearly cooked, sprinkle over them the grated cheese, and season with the salt and paprika. Place the eggs on the toasted halves of biscuit, turn the cream over them and serve.

FISH BALLS WITH SHREDDED WHEAT

1/2 lb. salt codfish
4 shredded wheat biscuits, rolled and sifted
1 tbsp. butter or margarine
1 pint hot milk
1 egg
1/2 tsp. white pepper
2 shredded wheat biscuits, rolled and sifted, for crumbing

Freshen the fish and chop or pick very fine, add crumbs and pepper, and mix well. Add butter and hot milk, stirring well. Let stand five minutes. Make into balls, roll in the egg beaten light, then in the crumbs and fry in deep fat.

STRAWBERRIES IN SHREDDED WHEAT BISCUIT BASKETS

Prepare berries as for ordinary serving. Crush an oblong cavity in the top of the biscuit with the bowl of a teaspoon, removing the inside shreds from the basket or patty shell. Heat the biscuit basket thoroughly in the oven, then fill with the strawberries in their own juices, and serve with milk or cream. Sweeten to suit the taste. Raspberries and blackberries can also be served in the same way. Or, if preferred, instead of making the biscuit basket the berries with juices can be poured over the biscuit and then served with milk or cream and sugar the same as before.

Broadway

NEW YORK, May 19.—The Coast esvedroppers insist Mickey Rooney is pursuing Ginny Simms via telephone—but he'd give up if he knew who her real heartbeat was. . . Talullah Bankhead, who hails from a distinguished family of politicians, is being urged by Bedford Hills locals to take a fling at politics herself. . . The Humphrey Bogart-Errol Flynn feud is making those Warner Bros war pictures seem tame by comparison. . . George Raft is set to back a New Jersey race-track. . . Al Jolson and Jinx Falkenberg are steady dancing partners. . . Renee DeMarco is stepping out of the revue "Slap Happy" before it hits Broadway. . . Some say because of a wrenched back, some say for an important movie test. . . The Vic Mizzy (singsongstress Mary Small) are knitting tiny garments.

CITY DESKS would get a good story if they could persuade the police department to release the figures on the number of kids who have run away from home to be near Frank Sinatra. . . King Carol of Rumania still hasn't given up hopes of being admitted to the U. S. His most recent plea for intercession was aimed at a high British source. . . Merle Oberon is better, but still ailing. . . Acme News Pictures has perfected a gadget that will transmit color pictures to and from any part of the world as easily as black and whites are now sent. . . Jack Benny heads East in a few weeks for his overseas shots. . . He'll end his radio season in N. Y.

GABRIEL DELL, one of the Dead End kids, has been given a medical discharge after two years in the maritime service. Shell shock. . . Sergt Harold Messer of the "Winged Victory" cast and Margaret Swett, a Maryland schoolmaam, are honeymooning. . . Leo Fuld, the Dutch tenor, is recuperating after a tonsillectomy. . . Washington know-it-alls insist that Mrs. F. D. R. would rather the President didn't run for a fourth term. . . Universal Pictures; which threw Allan Jones to the B's when he was in Hollywood, have decided to go to court to attempt to make him return for a picture.

RALPH BELLAMY will be Meyer Davis' silent partner in a fall revue. . . Word from the Coast has James McKinley Bryant back in circulation with an honorable discharge from the Army. . . The Lindy's set is agog over the report that the family of the late bookie Joe Baker (better known as "The Beak") has discovered his strong box—containing half a million dollars! . . . Many radio factories are manufacturing radios again, as in peacetime—but for lend lease, not domestic consumption. . . Hollywood seers believe the Academy Award is in the bag for Bing Crosby for his emoting in "Going My Way". . . Skirts will be even shorter this autumn, the style setters say. . . Victor Mature's roving eye has fastened on a sparkling SPAR. . . That Texas millionaire is going to the courts to try to get back the jewelry he gave a popular cover girl. . . Radio Row has it that Ralph Edwards, the quiz man, paid Harry Von Zell $12,000 to forget his contract to take Edwards' place on the show. Edwards was slated for Army induction, but it was called off. . . Gloria Dickson, the flicker actress, will walk down the aisle with ex-pugilist Bill Fitzgerald this ring name was Billy Ryan) as soon as he's out of the hospital. He's just been discharged from the Marine Corps as a result of wounds received in the South Pacific.

Star Shine

By Sidney Skolsky

HOLLYWOOD, May 19.—The most popular set in town is that of the "Ziegfeld Follies," but this news shouldn't be startling, for the most popular stage door on Broadway was always the "Follies," where never Ziegfeld had an edition of that show in town.

Lucille Ball

They are doing the "Merry-Go-Round" number with Lucille Ball, a number of gorgeous girls, and some very good-looking horses, too. The set has been playing to standing room only. Finally, in order that some work would be done, on both the set and in the studio, the order came through: The "Ziegfeld Follies" was a closed set, excepting for those who had actual business there. The studio policeman stationed outside the door was so strict that he refused to allow Lucille Ball to enter because she wasn't working in the sequence that day. Of course, she got in.

Later, Nat Wolff, who is in charge of television at Metro, walked to the Ziegfeld set to look things over. The studio policeman stopped him, asking: "Have you any official business on the set?" Knowing that his television work wouldn't get him in, Nat Wolff icily said: "I'm in charge of the Droll Department." The studio cop opened the door for the Wolff.

BING CROSBY, that eminent figure of the track, has managed to stay away from racing silks and form sheets long enough to make another picture, "Here Come the Waves." But on the set between scenes what do you think Crosby talks about? It isn't Sinatra. Bing is telling Betty Hutton and Sonny Tufts a yarn about a crooked race track.

This track specialized in fixed races, Bing relates, and before one race the owner came up to his jockey and said: "Mac, whatever you do today don't win. There'll be a lot if we win this race."

"O. K.," said Mac, "I'll do my best for you." But the trouble was that no one told the horse that he wasn't to win the race. It was in the third try. The jockey would pull him back, pull him back, but the horse would go on moving forward. The jockey pulled the bit back as far as he could without making it too obvious, but the horse still fought for the lead. It was a tough battle between Mac, the jockey, and the horse, and the horse came in third.

"I'm sorry," Mac said to the horse owner, "but I couldn't finish out of the money."

"That's O. K.," said the owner, "just so long as you didn't win. But tell me," he said as an after thought, "do you think you could have won?" "I'm not sure," the jockey said. "You know this track, I could have beaten the first two horses, but I don't know about the four horses behind me."

George Holland

Boston After Dark

TWO BOSTON HOTELS ARE CHANGING policy in entertainment, but neither switch is attributable to the 30 per cent tax which has been effective for more than six weeks. . . The Fensgate will convert its intimate Satire Room, where the entertainment has been a bit precious and very intimate (if you will excuse, please, the French), into the ringside of a dance floor. . . What is now the dining room of the beautiful little hospice on the Boston bank of the Charles, will be the area devoted to dancing. . . The out- doors terrace, opening off the Satire Room, will be opened this summer as usual. . . Bernard Synder, new owner of the Fensgate, is in the market for a good, small unit which can play danceable music—something comparable to Harry Green's marvelous little rhythmic group at the Mayfair. . . The Satire Room will still be used as the scene of a small floor show.

THE HOTEL TOURAINE is the other local hotel which plans to switch, and the change is quite drastic. . . Cy Hyde, the ex-cop who now owns the famous old Touraine—or a majority of its stock, at any rate—will install an ice show. . . This move, of course, depends on the availability of the elaborate equipment needed for an indoor ice rink. . . (The Copley Plaza has such equipment, and it has not been used much in the past two years). . . Remember, New York of the terrific success being scored by a fast new ice show at the Hotel New Yorker may have been influential in Mr. Hyde's decision.

THE MILLS BROTHERS at the Mayfair are being received with ovations from the patrons. . . The boys do so grand a job with "Paper Doll" that one is inclined to forget how silly are those "flirty-flirty eyes" and "fickle-minded" phrases of the lyrics. . . The Mills' "Rumba," "Lazy River," and "How Was I to Know" renditions are thrilling. . . They sing "I'll Be Around" better than we have heard it sung, too. . . The continued popularity of the Mills Brothers brings to mind the undeniable appeal of a male quartet, when it is good.

BOSTON ONCE WAS the birthplace of numerous excellent male quartets and a group called "The Aristocrats" is making the most pronounced hit right now in the so-called "Purple Heart" circuit, and in Army camps and Navy bases. . . "The Aristocrats" suddenly has become one of the most-booked acts in New England. . . The quartet consists of Joe "Champ" McDonald, Joe Green, "Happy" Creedon, and Jack Donaghy. . . "The Aristocrats" will thrill any audience with their singing of "Tell Me That You Love Me" and "If I Had My Way."

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: The Variety Club will hold its annual "Night of Stars," in aid of the club's children's camp, at a downtown theater on June 11. . . Mack Shapiro, host at a small party to observe the birthday of his beautiful wife, Winnie, at the Mayfair, confirmed the report that his Horatio Alger story can now read from "Newsboy to Mill Magnate." . . The leading philanthropist of the Boston garment center, who once sold Boston Americans at the South Station, has just bought a large interest in one of New England's greatest woolen mills. . . The trade papers will be telling the story soon.

Berry Expects Pro Grid To Put College in Shade

By AUSTEN LAKE

THERE WAS a time, and not so very long ago either, when it was bad for one's reputation to admit friendship for a baseball umpire lest it be construed as a sign of depravity, like fondness for hangmen, grave-diggers and other morbid characters. The umpire represents a form of law and order, or the arm of authority, toward which the ball players were inherently resentful. In later years the umpires have lived down their unfortunate profession and are now accepted on the same social footing as traffic cops, OPA officials and the presidents of large corporations. So it is no sin if I say that I like to sit around with Charlie Berry and Cal Hubbard, the coldest in blue serge who rendered justice in the series between the Red Sox and the Browns. As a matter of personal preference I will take Charlie and Cal and give you the ball players and some of the club owners and managers to boot.

Charlie Berry

Genial Gents

AS SEEN from the press box, which is sometimes (and not without justice) called "the hyena cage" Messrs. Berry and Hubbard are a pair of men built like oversized firetrucks who straddle a foul line or crouch in an ape-like stance behind the plate, perpetual chips on their shoulders and a challenge in the angle of their jaws. But in the quiet of their hotel rooms they are genial persons, charged with manly earnestness and a love for conversation in soft sibilants. So now Charlie and Cal were talking—Not not baseball, which is the source of their coffee and cakes. But talking football, as though sniffing the sweet incense from a dear dead past. For football to old 49ers like Charlie and Cal is not merely a game. It is a concequence and a 12-month topic, a sentimental milestone that goes echoing down the ages—if I may mix my metaphor. Maybe you old codgers of . . . well say 40 years, remember when Cal was a living folk tale at Geneva College and stripping Harvard halfbacks like shucking ears of corn. And Charlie when he was a primitive with shoulders like he had a couple of tea kettles shoved up his sleeves when he was plucking B.C. naked.

REAL "All" Choices

ANYWAY, both were genuine, guaranteed All-Americans which are not to be confused with the spurious, self appointed All-Americans who, in later years, claimed that honor by being named by their hometown sport page. Charlie and Cal were All-America all over America by common consent. And now each autumn Charlie crawls out of his blue serge umpire's suit and into the black and white prison stripes of a pro football official, to which he was drafted from the top of the college list. And so he was saying that if the college grid grantees hope to revive the post-war customer appeal of their game they had better get busy and modernize their rules before the pros push them back into the deep shadows of boredom. And he summarized the difference in the college and pro's code, to wit and talking—Not not baseball, which

COLLEGE

- 1—Any down the field lateral pass that goes forward is returned to the spot where the ball was put in play.
- 2—A ball carrier whose knee touches the ground is automatically "dead."
- 3—No forward pass may be thrown unless passer is five yards behind scrimmage.
- 4—Fumbles may not be advanced if recovered by the defending side.
- 5—Goals posts at rear of end zone.
- 6—Kicks going out of bounds are put in play on receiving team's 35-yard line.

PROFESSIONAL

- 1—Such a happening merely penalizes the team making the forward-lateral five yards from the spot of error.
 - 2—Unless in the grasp of an opponent such a carrier may get up and continue to run.
 - 3—A passer may throw from anywhere behind his line.
 - 4—All fumbles may be advanced by either side.
 - 5—Posts on the goal line.
 - 6—If out of bounds, kickoff put in play on receiving team's 45.
- A change now being contemplated enforces a five-yard penalty and continued kickoffs until receiving team can run it back.

Pros to Dicate

AS CURRENT college chairman of the rules committee, Lieut.-Col. William J. Bingham, on leave as Harvard director of athletics, has decided not to call a rules revision meeting until after the war. Which means that the present college code will remain static. Meanwhile, the pros are refitting their book to make their games furnish the best crowd spectacle possible. Said Cal, himself an alumnus of the New York Giants and Green Bay Packers. "The pro game is steadily passing the colleges in play and as a competitive spectacle. Posts on the goal line have encouraged placement kicks. The fumble rule and the elimination of the knee-on-the-ground rule keep the continuity going without danger to the players. "Forcing the team to keep kickoffs in bounds adds to the action. It's a better game for the players and a finer attraction for the spectators. Why not?" And echo answers, "Why not, indeed?"

Raynham Gives First Night's Share to Vets

By JACK CONWAY

Russ Murray's Raynham Park dog track will make its first cash contribution of its present meeting to the Disabled Veterans Fund of the American-Record-Sunday Advertiser tonight. The association's share of the mutual handle of one race will go to this worthy charity.

Dodds Runs in N. E. Prep Meet

By MIKE GILLOOLY

That syncope gaited Mr. Dodds, the same fellow who would RUN a mile for less remuneration than a Camel, will show the schoolboys just how it should be done again tomorrow when he moves to the post in a special event featuring the New England prep school track and field championships at Andover.

The appearance of the great Gil will boost this meet to the top spot in the list of week-end attractions in interscholastic ranks—above the ancient Relay Carnival and state tennis championships, both at Belmont High School, the Essex County track festival at Lawrence, and a slim baseball program. Dodds, possessor of the indoor record over his specialized distance and America's outstanding outdoor miler, will be making his second start locally since he took over the national crown last winter in Chicago. Last week, he toyed with some local runners at Russell Field, Cambridge, in a triangular affair that attracted a record crowd as triangular affairs go in this section. But the kids appreciated Dodds' thoughtfulness and they'll probably be quite happy tomorrow at Andover that the preacher-miler agreed to run.

He'll bring along two half-mile pacers to keep him company in his four trips around the 440-yard cinder path, each providing a change in conversation after performing his allotted duty.

MEET ATTRACTS 125

The meet itself will attract 125 competitors from nine private and prep schools. They'll be coming from Andover, Exeter, Dummer, Thayer, Tabor, Milton, Moses Brown, St. Marks and Worcester Academy. Battling for points will get underway with the field events at 1 p. m., with Mr. Dodds slated to take over at approximately the close of the program.

Twenty schools will be sending track quartets to the Belmont Relay Carnival, a continuation of the former Fitchburg affair, in quest of titles in four classes of competition. Director Polly Harris was forced to reject the entry of Weston High in Class A because of the complete lack of competition, but the remainder of the card will move along as planned.

In Class B, Saugus, Lexington and New Bedford Vocational will make up the field; Class C will include Melrose, Winchester, Brighton, Mechanic Arts, Watertown and Belmont; Class D will pit Somerville, Newton, Everett, Rindge Tech, Medford, Cambridge Latin and Boston English (where's Malden?); the special division will list St. Sebastian's of Newton, St. John's of Danvers, Mission of Roxbury and Boston College High.

Seven schools, Brookline, Boston Latin, Belmont, Hingham, Newton, Watertown and Winchester, will open the trials in the tennis championships. The seeded list finds Matt Branche, Latin, No. 1, and in order: Sumner Rodman, Latin; Bob Scanlon, Newton; Jim Ware, Winchester; Gordon McGovern, Winchester; Murray Levin, Brookline; Myron Sharaf, Brookline; and Nelson Everts, Newton.

It will be the first of eight such races. During each week of the meeting, Murray will set aside one race for the Disabled Veterans Fund.

There was first talk of running an extra race in which the Disabled Veterans Fund would share. "That would make it necessary to hold 11 races," said Russ. "I would rather conduct my usual 10-race program and give one race to the Disabled Veterans Fund. I would then feel that my track was doing something itself for the veterans."

ALWAYS AIDED VETS

"There is not anything I have done that has given me as much satisfaction as my aid for the veterans of this war. Those men who are employed at the track are giving a good night's work, and they are happy to be employed."

"By setting aside a special race for the Disabled Veterans Fund it will be possible to raise thousands of dollars."

"As one who was a disabled veteran in the last war, I know that the veterans of this war will derive considerable satisfaction in the thought they have not been forgotten."

Raynham expects its largest crowd of the season tonight. There will be 10 races and they should furnish keen competition. There are plenty of speedy greyhounds at Raynham Park. They are in fine condition and ready to show their best.

May Cancel the Races on D-Day

A suggestion to cancel thoroughbred racing on the day the Allies invade the Axis European fortress will be considered at next Monday's meeting of the Massachusetts Race Commission, Chairman Connors said last night, according to the Associated Press.

The racing commissions of Illinois and New York already have announced such cancellations on D-Day.

Karl Davis, winner over the Angel earlier this week, has been signed to meet titlist Sander Szabo, California, for the world's heavyweight championship in the main bout of Promoter Paul Bowser's weekly wrestling show at the Arena next Wednesday night.

In winning in a straight fall, Davis broke two of the Angel's ribs so that he was unable to continue. Davis was substituting for Bobby Managoff in that match.

$150 a Day for Nuchols At Hollywood Race Track

By JACK CONWAY

SAM NUCHOLS, for the past decade the power in the stewards' stand at Narragansett Park, will not return to the Pawtucket, R. I., track for the fall meeting this writer learned from an authoritative source today. Nuchols will leave for California when the half-mile meeting at Pascoag closes and preside in the stewards' stand at the 55-day meeting that opens at Hollywood, Cal., on Aug. 25.

It is understood that Nuchols has been guaranteed $150 a day by the Hollywood track which will make him one of the highest priced racing officials in the country.

Nuchols was steward at Pascoag last year. He is on the job there now making arrangements for the meeting that gets under way tomorrow. Owing to the conflict of dates with Hollywood Nuchols will not be able to be in the stand for the full fall meeting at Pascoag.

There were reports last winter that everything was not in perfect accord between Nuchols and the management of Narragansett Park. Objections had been made to Nuchols acting as an official at Pascoag. Nuchols insisted on being, in the stewards' stand at Pascoag. During the recent meeting at Narragansett Park, Nuchols had Norman Charlton as his associate. The latter replaced Norris Royden.

Need of Good Officials

THERE IS an urgent need of first-class racing officials. Narragansett Park is only one of a number of tracks trying to secure needed material for their staffs of officials.

Most race tracks have neglected the task of developing men who could act as stewards, placing judges, racing secretaries and other necessary officials. There are numerous competent persons connected with racing who could be taught to be first-class officials if they were given an opportunity to serve with competent associates.

Chairman Charles F. Connors and Commissioners Harry Allen and Bayard Tuckerman, Jr., of the Massachusetts Racing Commission have recognized this condition and have discussed the matter with the management of local tracks.

Lou Smith of Rockingham Park has done more than any of the other track heads to remedy this condition. Tom Shehan of Danvers, now in the Army as a correspondent for the Army weekly, Yank, was given his chance to make good by Smith. At the time Shehan entered the Army he was considered by Herman Conkling and other veteran officials as one of the best of the younger racing officials. If Shehan were not in service he could solve Narragansett Park's problem.

Billy Almy was also given his chance to serve at a major track by Smith. Almy later became a steward at Suffolk Downs, Agawam and at some of the Fair race meetings.

Almy would probably be available for the vacancy at Narragansett Park. He knows racing thoroughly and has the highest respect of the horsemen. Billy lives outside of New Bedford, and has many friends in Rhode Island as well as in Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

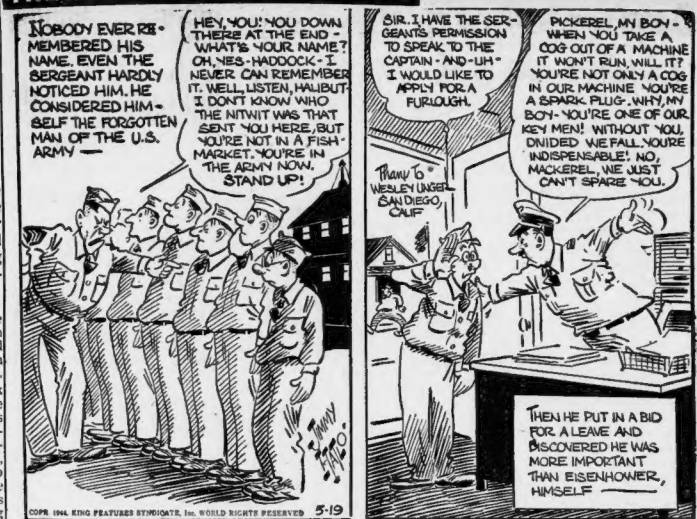

Fenelon State Steward

HAP FENELON will be State steward at the Pascoag meeting. The selection of Fenelon assures the public of the utmost in protection. Hap has been close to racing for years, and knows how to handle the many varied problems that come up.

With racing booming everywhere, Pascoag will have the most successful meeting in its history. Racing Secretary Gordon Morrow will offer attractive cards.

Half mile racing is spectacular, and is popular with the betting public. Racegoers are nearer the action than they are at the big tracks and this tends to arouse their enthusiasm.

Tech to Use Cornell Shell

Determined to make up the two feet by which they lost last Saturday, M. I. T.'s varsity crew enters Friday night for Ithaca, N. Y., to race the Navy, Cornell and Columbia Saturday afternoon.

Just prior to leaving for last Saturday's race at the Naval Academy, H. Thoriksen and R. B. Cook were lost to the squad through illness. Despite this last-minute change, Navy defeated Tech's varsity by only two feet. Cook returned to the squad Monday and Thoriksen Wednesday, with the result that M. I. T. has hopes of crossing the finish line first at Ithaca.

Since most of the Tech crew squad is composed of X-12 men, the Navy's 48-hour rule covering athletic trips again prohibits departure for Ithaca prior to Friday night. As is the case with all visiting crews this season, M. I. T. will row in a shell borrowed from Cornell.

Since better connections cannot be made, Tech will have no opportunity to row this shell prior to rowing to the starting line for the race.

Statistics concerning the men making the trip are attached hereto:

Triple Fight For Runner-Up

Now that the Navy Yard is beyond reach, for this week at least, the big fight tonight in the Boston Park League will be the battle for second place among three teams.

The Watertown Arsenal, present incumbent, tackles the strong Trailways at Healy Field and a victory for the gun makers assures them of staying there for awhile. But if the Trailways win, a three-way tie is possible.

The Dick Casey Club received a jolt last night when it lost to the Linehans and will be out for revenge when it meets the luckless West Roxbury club at the Town Field. And in the other game the Hicks Engineering outfit will make another attempt to hit the win column by tackling the Linehans at Readville.

Braves Retarded by Light Work at Plate

By JOE CASHMAN

ST. LOUIS, May 19.—A bad start in a pennant race is a terrific handicap to a club. Let an entry fall some half-dozen games below the .500 mark and it has the very deuce of a time trying to pull up even.

Take the Braves. They've won 10 of their last 15 games in the first month of the campaign.

Yet they are two games under .500 today because they had the misfortune to lose ten of their first 13 starts.

Oddly enough, their wretched getaway and their failure to date to overcome that early deficit is due to an incredible inability to make any runs for a pitcher who would be gobbled up in a moment if put on the auction block with a $100,000 price tag.

The warriors are in sixth place rather than second place at the moment only because Al Javery has lost five games after star-spangled pitching efforts that warranted him breezing to six victories.

The story is well known to Boston fans, save for the most recent chapter written under the Missouri moon last night.

The Braves went into that second game with the champion Cardinals only one game under the .500 mark. They asked Jave to get them up there where they'd have as many victories as defeats.

Bear Tracks' responded by holding the Cards hitless through six innings. But the best he could boast of at the time was a scoreless tie with George Munger, the St. Louis fire-baller.

The Tribesmen had made three hits, drawn a walk and been aided by two St. Louis errors but, as usual, they had failed to score for their colleague from North Oxford.

LUCKY CARDS' SEVENTH

"Jave" finally yielded a hit to Whitey Kurowski, Cards' third-sacker, with one out in the seventh and this single beat him, 2-0. At the finish, the Tribe was credited with five blows and the Red Birds with only two but "Jave" was a defeated pitcher once more.

He tried to save himself in the seventh but his jinx was still with him. He walked Stan Musial, first up. Then, when O'Dea bunted, Al tried to force Musial at second. He failed. Then a sacrifice by Litwhiler put the two Cards' runners in position to score on the Kurowski hit to left.

It really made little difference. The Braves won't get to a run until they can't do better than tie. It's difficult to believe but he's now pitched 33 consecutive innings without being furnished a tally by his supporting cast.

Now that Jave has taken his regular turn and experienced his customary setback, maybe the Tribe will get rolling again.

They can still break better than even on this first Western invasion by splitting their remaining four games—one here this afternoon and a three-game series in Chicago concluding in a Sunday twin-bill.

THE BLEND OF A PERFECT DAY

Back in the "good old days," perfect balance made our swill blend the favorite of "The Man Who Cares." Well, nowadays we're making war material exclusively. But Carstairs White Seal whiskey is still the Perfectly Balanced Blend. That's because it's coming from our limited prewar reserves... And "shortage" or no, we won't sacrifice quality for quantity. So naturally Carstairs White Seal whiskey is hard to get... But because it's still the Perfectly Balanced Blend, we think you'll still prefer it—any day.

Jim Dykes Actually Coddling Umpires

By BILL GRIMES

On his way to breakfast this morning, in the lobby of his hotel, Manager Jimmy Dykes of the White Sox, met Cal Hubbard, Charlie Berry and "Red" Jones the umpires, who will "work" the Red Sox-Chicago series, which opens with a single game this afternoon at Fenway Park.

Now, it's no military secret that Mr. Dykes is allergic to umpires. He has disagreed with more arbiters than any other manager in baseball. He is such a baseball fanatic that he doesn't even see eye to eye with John P. Carmichael.

But, after taking three straight from the New York Yankees, Mr. Dykes is so elated today that he forgot himself. "Good morning to you, Mr. Hubbard. How are you, Mr. Berry. And, I presume this gentleman is Mr. Jones. All three of you gentlemen look to me as though you had wintered well. I'm delighted that Mr. Harridge assigned you to 'work' this series."

That was all, brother. In nothing flat, all three umpires were on their respective backs. En masse, Cal Hubbard, Charlie Berry and "Red" Jones weigh a long ton. So at least a half hour before the bells, who worked the early shift, got them back on their feet.

In the interim, Mr. Dykes, in order to give Traveling Secretary

Joe Barry's road account a break, retired to a one-armed lunch room across the street for his repast.

The White Sox, which is the only co-ed club in baseball, were rated as the most serious contenders of the four Western teams for the American League pennant, when they left the Windy City. Why the White Sox rated a salute from the Browns, Indians and Tigers is still a mystery. True, they did stop St. Louis after the Browns had won nine straight. But, why the fanfare?

There are three former Braves with the White Sox, Tony Cuccinello, Ralph Hodgins and Ed Carnett. In all probability, only the most rabid Braves enthusiasts recall that at one time Hodgins and Carnett were on Bob Quinn's payroll. Hodgins had tea with the Stengelman at Bradenton in 1940 and the following spring Carnett was the guest of the Braves at San Antonio.

Although they knocked off the Yankees three times in a row, the White Sox are only playing .500 ball. But, at that, they're a pretty good ball club.

Chasing Enemy—French mechanized equipment moves through Castelforte in pursuit of the Nazi legions who were forced to retreat under the big Allied drive which smashed the Germans' Gustav Line. Today the Allies were hammering the Hitler line.

Festival—These three Simmons College students wrapped themselves in the warmth of a gaily colored blanket to watch the coronation of the King and Queen during the annual strawberry festival on the campus in the Fenway. Tucked in up to their chins are (l. to r.) Pamela Moore of Providence, Phyllis Baker of Watertown and Virginia Wallace of New Haven.
